This international focus is further enforced by the programme's highly diverse student body.

"This result confirms ESCP's position as a truly global business school, rooted in Europe and recognised worldwide. Ranking 22nd globally in the Financial Times MBA ranking reflects our long-standing commitment to academic excellence, international collaboration and responsible leadership," says Prof. Léon Laulusa, Executive President and Dean of ESCP Business School.

Designed to help mid-level professionals seeking to accelerate or transform their careers, the ESCP MBA offers a flexible format tailored to students' lifestyles and ambitions. Available on campus, online, or in a hybrid format, the programme can be completed in up to 22 months and offers a choice of four specialisations: Consulting, Entrepreneurship, Luxury, or Fintech & Innovation.

The ESCP MBA also performed strongly on sustainability criteria, ranking 4th globally for ESG and net zero teaching. ESCP embeds ESG principles across the core curriculum, with a strong focus on sustainability & entrepreneurship.

"Our focus is on delivering rigorous, relevant education that enables professionals to succeed in a rapidly changing global environment. The FT results highlight the strength of the ESCP MBA experience, from the international classroom and flexible learning formats to the tangible career outcomes our graduates achieve," says Prof.

Francesco Rattalino, Executive Vice President for Academic Affairs and Student Experience at ESCP Business School.

In the 2026 ranking, ESCP was ranked 5th globally for value for money, and 100% of MBA graduates were employed within three months of graduation, according to the FT.

“The ESCP MBA is designed to prepare leaders who can operate confidently across borders and navigate complexity with a strong sense of responsibility. This recognition from the FT reflects the coherence of our approach, combining human-centred learning as a driver for critical thinking, international exposure and academic rigour,” says Prof. Benoît Heilbrunn, Associate Dean of the MBA programme at ESCP Business School.
